RICHMOND, VA., SUNDAY, JANUARY 6, 1889.

AFTER A MOST PROSPE-ROUS YEAR WE ARE WILLING TO STAND THIS GREAT LOSS TO DISPOSE OF THIS SUR-PLUS STOCK.

THIS SALE SHALL CON-TINUE UNTIL THE ENTIRE SURPLUS IS DISPOSED OF.

A Great Distribution Sale!

$50,000 WORTH OF DRY GOODS, CARPETS, Etc.,

to be distributed among the homes of Richmond and Manchester at a great LOSS to the firm of Julius Meyer & Sons. This $50,000 worth of goods represent our surplus stock; that is, we have $50,000 more stock than we should have, and with a determination for which we are famous shall sell off without regard to its cost or value to us. If we get $10,000 for this $50,000 worth of surplus stock we shall be satisfied; in fact, we realize, as our past experiences have taught us, to sell such an immense amount of goods at this season it must be done at great loss. This surplus is not confined to any one class or kind of goods. Each and every department -- the lowest-priced, the medium-priced, the highpriced goods--all come under this terrific slaughter of price and profits. No matter how desirable. how new, or how stylish the article, if we have any surplus it must be gotten rid of. We could not hope to sell all this surplus for present use. The prices of many things will be so astonishingly and ridiculously low you will buy them for the future.

REMEMBER, MONDAY MORNING, JANUARY 7th, A1 8 O'CLOCK, this great sale commences. Remember what Meyer's sales are. The times of greatest bargains. Our reputation is too dear to us to indulge in this wild advertising without carrying out our promises. Remember, we are anxious to sell, no matter how low we make the price. Watch the daily papers. Many items that are now laid away on shelves will come to light and will be brought to your notice day by
